Up & Over Range

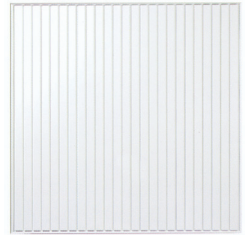

Our one-piece, up & over garage doors are made to last with a strong built-in mechanism. A popular product for many different types of properties.

All doors are made to fit any size, and we supply them framed or unframed, depending on your preference. They can give you up to an extra 6 inches of driving-through width - perfect for garages lacking in space.

Up & over garage doors fully finished in white, as standard, with a full range of RAL colours available to choose from to match to your home.

Additionally, they are also maintenance-free, with no painting required! Manufactured in steel and fully coated, they are available retractable and with the canopy gearing option, too.

Sectional Range

These garage doors are designed to save on space, with neatly hinged panels that carefully slot underneath your garage roof - ideal for smaller garages.

Our sectional doors are fitted with an insulated seal, eliminating any drafts you may get from a normal garage door. Both sides, including the top and bottom of the door have a 45mm strip that keeps it extremely secure and insulated. With the door folding up vertically, you can park closer to the garage, saving a space of up to 3ft in your driveway!

High quality
at the press of a button...

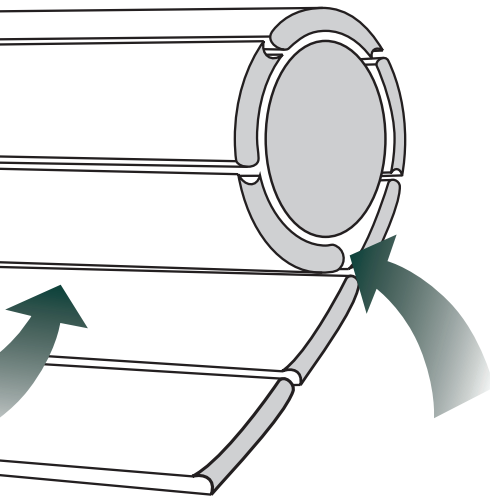

All garage doors are manufactured in steel, with a white coating as standard. The reinforced wear-resistant belt provides a quiet and smooth-running long term operation.

Our manufacturer has the best technological machinery and is fully respected throughout Europe.

Roller Door Range

Our automation system ensures this garage door rolls upwards into the roof, at the touch of a button. Extremely reliable and simple to operate.

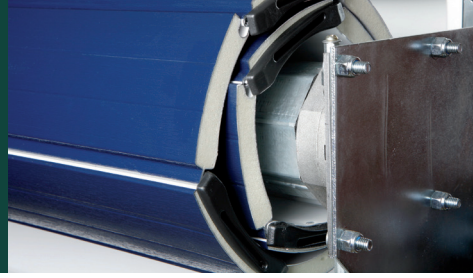

Space Saver

The door rolls up into a 300mm solid box above the opening, so you can park closer to your garage, saving a space of up to 3ft in your driveway!

All roller doors are fully insulated and are manufactured with 77mm lathes to give maximum strength.

Automated & Insulated

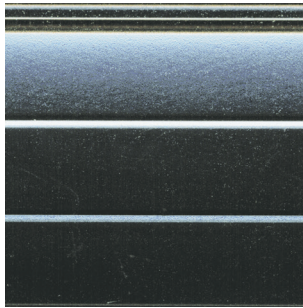

The insulated aluminium provides a thermal and acoustic barrier, which could reduce your carbon footprint and provide noise reduction.
